

LAND COMPANY'S MOVEMENTS INDICATE NEW STEEL PLANT

Gathering up All Ground
Adjoining Chemical
Works

MARKET FOR BY-PRODUCT

Chemical Company Has
Waste in Production of Pig Iron

Through a move being made by the rehand Land company at Newell acquiring possession of land adjoining
the General Chemical company's remnant and existing conditions at the Spanish plant, the rumor that a steel plant is to be located at Newell is borne out. The March-Italian Land Company is securing about 67 acres of ground from individuals to whom they had sold the land previously,
offering in exchange lots east
of the railroad tracks.

The General Chemical company in
its manufacture of sulphuric acid
has a by-product of 60 percent iron
which is ready to reduce to pig iron,
but for which they are unable to find
a market. If there was a steel plant
or a furnace at Newell, there would be a market created for this by-product.
The site is a good one for a steel plant, and has been looked over
by steel corporations.

In their manufacture of sulphuric
acid the General Chemical company
uses iron pyrites imported from Spain
by the way of Baltimore. After the sulphuric acid is extracted, these pyrites are pressed into bricks and
the sulphur burned out, leaving 60 per cent iron. At present this is a waste.

The Chemical company is planning
to double their sulphuric acid plant
and put in a pyritic acid and hydrochloric acid plant. There is a demand for all three kinds of acid
although the most demand is of course
for the sulphuric acid.

TURNER ACTIVES

WILL GIVE ANNUAL
GYMNASTIC DRILL

The gymnastic classes of the Charleroi Turn Verein will Saturday evening at the Turner Hall hold their annual drill and gymnastic exercises.
A special program has been arranged,
and consists of the following: Music,
Ehre Gotthes in der Natur; turning on rings, by girls; turning on horse,
by boys; music by mixed chorus,
"Sennerrin Sehnsucht nach der Alm;" athletic drill by girls; song with cornet solo; free exercises and march by boys; tableaux, representing Germany and America, by boys and girls.
The affair is for the Turners and their families only.

COMPROMISE TERMS ARE AGREED UPON

Strike of the Miners Called off Through Agreements Reached by Operators
and Miners.

Advices from Pittsburgh this morning are to the effect that there will
be no strike of the 40,000 coal miners
of the Pittsburgh district. This positive statement was made last evening
by President Francis Feehan of District No. 5 United Mine Workers,
after the scale committees of the operators and miners had had an all day
session in Pittsburgh. The executive boards of the two bodies will meet
today to adopt the agreement of the
scale committee, which was composed of M. H. Taylor of the Pittsburgh Coal company and John H. Jones of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo Coal company

for the operators and President Feehan and George Dagger for the miners.

Exactly how the disputed points
had been settled President Feehan would not say last evening. He said the operators had made a number of favorable concessions to the miners,
and that the dispute, which had been active since the general contract was signed May 1, is ended. The contract as agreed upon early yesterday evening will cover a period of two years, ending April 30, 1912. During this period it is expected that there will be no further disputes between miners and operators.

BYRON KING AT MONESSEN

Noted Elocutionist Will Appear in Neighbor Town
on Fourth

There is hardly a housewife in Monessen this week who is not busily
engaged in helping to make the
numerous costumes which are to be used in the Pageant of Nations on July Fourth. The soldiers and sailors all require special uniforms of course and Uncle Sam will have no reason to be ashamed of the representatives of his
who turn out in the parade.

Those who enjoy a real, old-fashioned, patriotic Fourth of July speech will be drawn to Monessen of the Fourth to hear Byron W. King,
the famous Pittsburgh orator and
owner of King's School of Oratory.
Mr. King was secured by H. R. Pore,
president of the Board of Trade, who is a personal friend of the elocutionist.

The interest which is manifested in
the Pageant is only secondary by a very small degree to the interest in
the sports, which take place immediately afterwards at the park. Following are the events, in which a representative of each nationality will
take part:

Tug of War—First prize, $25.00
up; second prize, $15.00

One mile relay—Gold, silver and
bronze medals.

One-half mile obstacle race—Gold,
silver and bronze medals.

100 yard dash—Gold, silver and
bronze medals.

220 yard dash—Gold, silver and
bronze medals.

Those who come to Monessen on July Fourth will witness one of the most interesting spectacles of modern times. The Pageant will contain
about forty floats and the bands,
marching clubs, cadets and secret
societies will swell the ranks to one
of the largest processions ever given
in the Monongahela valley.

BRIGADE PLANS TO TAKE POSTPONED "HIKE" SATURDAY

The Charleroi Boys Brigade will
take their postponed "hike" to Ben-
tleyville on Saturday night for a camping out over Sunday. The boys will meet at the Tennis Court at 6:30
o'clock to leave Charleroi at 7 o'clock.
They will then march to Bentleyville,
to camp about a mile and a half from
the town. Sunday they will take dinner at a Bentleyville Hotel, and
return home Monday morning early.

The Everhart Studio under the management of Miss Jessie Everhart will
be open on Saturday for all kinds of photographic work, including finishing
and developing amateur work, a
specialty being made of high class
portraiture. Everhart Studio, successor
to McDonald's, corner Fifth and Fal-
lowfield. 267t1

OFFICIALS ARE SUED

Charleroi Woman Seeks
$5,000 Damages for False Arrest.

Catherine Fram of Charleroi, has
filed a suit for $5,000 damages against
Chief of Police C. W. Albright, Officer George McEldowney and Burgess George W. Risbeck. This is alleged due for assault, false imprisonment, abuse and other humili-
ations. The offense she states occurred
on May 1, 1910. The plaintiff avers
she was taken by Albright and Mc-
Eldowney through the streets of Charleroi to the office of Risbeck and there $11.85 demanded of her. Upon her refusal to pay this she says she
was imprisoned. It is understood the trouble is the second chapter of a dispute between the plaintiff and her neighbors over a sanitary sewer. The sewer controversy was recently threshed out in court.

DEMOCRATS WILL MEET SATURDAY AT WASHINGTON

The meeting of the Democrat
county committee will be held in the
public meeting room of the court house
Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. H.
H. Wilson, of Beaver, Democratic candidate for congress from the 24th
congressional district will be present
and make an address to the delegates.

The present officers of the county
committee are James A. Bubbett,
chairman; John N. Patterson, treasurer; H. D. Hamilton and John M.
F. Hana, of Washington, and W. S.
Shepler of Monongahela; secretaries.
It is stated that Mr. Bubbett seeks
re-election to the office of chairman
and so far it seems no other candidates have announced themselves.

HORSE FRIGHTENS AT TIRE OF WHEEL SCRAPING THE CURB

When a horse of Dr. J. Clive
Enos, frightened at the wheels of
the wagon to which it was hitched
scraping against the curb, ran away
yesterday afternoon, one wagon was
nearly demolished, and two others
damaged somewhat. The horse started from in front of Dr. Enos' home on Fifth street and ran down the hill.
To it was hitched a wagon of Livery-
man Dr. Kimmell. At the corner of Fifth street and Washington avenue,
the wagon bumped into one of R. W.
Bayne's being driven up the street
by Sol. Minney, and the front axle
of the latter vehicle was broken. It
then bumped into the grocery wagon
of Carson's Grocery, and did some damage. The horse was brought to a standstill.

FILTRATION PLANT WILL COMPARE WITH SCRANTON'S

Former Charleroi
Boy Admitted to Bar
Will Take up Practice of Law
in the District of Columbia.

On Monday of this week Lawrence
J. Koters, formerly of Charleroi,
and the son of John Koters of Lincoln avenue, was admitted to the bar
of the Supreme Court of the District
of Columbia. Mr. Koters has been
in Washington for about four years
now, employed in the Treasury Department, and at the same time studying law. He was successful in his examinations, and the degree of
Master of Laws was conferred on him
June 6 by the National University
Law School at Washington, D. C.

WILL HOLD RECEPTION AT HOTEL

Public Will be Given Opportunity to Meet Fourth
Speakers

WILL CARRY OUT PROGRAM

In connection with the Fourth of July celebration in Charleroi,
the visit of Hon. John Mitchell, and Judge J. F. Taylor of Washington,
a public reception for both will be held in the parlors of the Wilbur Hotel
shortly after noon Monday, when all
so pleased may meet both esteemed
gentlemen. They will be entertained during their stay here at the Wilbur Hotel, which will be the Fourth headquarters. It will be the occasion of John Mitchell's first visit
to Charleroi, and this being a mining
center, he will be much pleased to meet the miners and their friends
here.

Speaking will be in the morning in
the "Pines" by Messrs
Mitchell and Taylor, and they will go to Eldora Park after the public reception in company with Hon. J. K.
Tener.

Chairman James G. Pentz, of the invitation and reception committee
announced this morning that everything of which they had charge would
be carried out according to program.

At McKean's Auction

At the auction last night Mrs. O.
Workman received a present of a set
of silver spoons. This was the sixth
present given away by Mr. McKean
since the auction started. Another
one will be given away this afternoon and tonight, also Saturday
afternoon. Saturday night the big prize will be given. Chairs reserved

Combination of Latest Designs in Construction

CHEMICALS WILL BE USED

Water Will go Through Several Processes to be Thoroughly Filtered.

In construction and design, Char-
leroi is to have one of the model filtration plants of the state, and one
that will compare with the one at Scranton, considered to be the best in Pennsylvania. The work on the filtration plant which was started sometime ago is going along well. Phil
and Miller of Pittsburgh, being the contractors. W. J. Flaherty is the representative of the company in charge here, F. S. Adams is the water
company's man in charge, and Milton
Stein represents the engineering department of the water company.

One of the most noticeable features
of the entire work is the thoroughness
of construction. The design is a combination of all the latest and most
approved ideas for filtration plants.

In the filter tubs is where the real
technical work and skill comes.
These have to be constructed to remove
all typhoid germs and all impurities
from the water and to oxidize the
vegetable and animal matter which
comes from the sewage entering the river up the river. In the purification of the water, chemicals are used,
among these being aluminum sulphate,
and calcium chloride, the latter a late
discovery of the extermination of typhoid germs. Air blasts are used
to blow air up through the water,
this being done by a rotary blowing
apparatus, blowing at the rate of five pounds per square inch. There will be six filter tubs.

The water when it comes from the
river is first taken into the sedimentation basins, and from there into the "coagulant" house. Thence the water goes into the filter tubs, having
lost part of its impure properties in
the sedimentation basin, and in other processes. After the killing of the germs and other processes of filtration
in these filter tubes the water passes
into the clear water basin, and from
there goes to the reservoir.

The new pumping engine is expected to arrive in two weeks and will
be installed at once in the pump station, which is being enlarged. The Charleroi plant will be a better one,
though smaller than Pittsburgh's. It
will be more thoroughly constructed
and in design superior. Proportion-
ately it will cost more.

CENSUS SUPERVISOR SENDING IN FINAL REPORTS TO BUREAU

Census Supervisor Charles O. Frye
has about completed the examination
of the work of the enumerators in the 21st district and sent in the greater part of his completed schedule
today. The Department of Census
will make a report of the population
about the first of October. The duties of many supervisor's clerks
over the county have terminated, and they are no longer on the government
pay roll.

The Hat Straw Crop.
The greater part of the straw employed for making summer hats comes from Italy. To obtain a suitable straw for this purpose the wheat is sown as thickly as possible in order that the growth of the plant may be impoverished as well as to produce a thin stalk. The Italian wheat blooms at the beginning of June and is pulled up by hand by the roots when the grain is half developed. Should it be allowed to remain in the ground a longer time the straw would become too brittle for the purpose for which it is grown. Uprooted straws to the number of about five dozen, the size of the compass of the two hands, are firmly tied together in little sheaves and stowed away in barns. After that the straw is again spread out to catch the heavy summer dews and to bleach in the sun. When the product has been sufficiently bleached it is put into small bundles and classified. The next step is to cut it close above the first joint from the top, when it is again tied up in small bundles containing about sixty stalks each and is then ready for the market. —Harper's Weekly.

The Languages of Paradise.
Every language has its admirers. In "Lucile" the author, Owen Meredith, maintained that when he heard French spoken as he approved he "found himself quietly falling in love." Edward Burton is another instance of this lingual fascination. In stating his preference in his enchanting "Cities of Spain" he recalls an interesting mediaeval legend. He says:
"And as I listened to the splendid syllables of the Castilian tongue that rang eloquently through the twilight I remembered the saying of that old Spanish doctor of whom James Howell tells us in his 'Instructions For Foraine Travell'—to wit, that Spanish, Italian and French, these three daughters of the Latin language, were spoken in paradise; that God Almighty created the world in Spanish, the tempter persuaded Eve in Italian and Adam begged pardon in French."

Taste Is Localized.
Taste is curiously localized in the mouth. Put a lump of sugar on the tip of your tongue and you will find it distinctly sweet. Then try it halfway back on the tongue and you will find it tasteless. All sweet or aromatic substances, such as wine, sugar and coffee, can be properly appreciated by the front half of the tongue, a piece of knowledge that every true connoisseur applies when he sips instead of taking a mouthful. With most other substances, however, the reverse is true. In these cases the tip of the tongue serves only for touching—it is the back part that tastes. The sides of the mouth, too, are quite insensible to certain substances not tasteless. Put some salt or vinegar between the teeth and the cheek and you will find them absolutely flavorless. —London Standard.

Wrestling For Rent.
In several cantons of Switzerland the custom prevails of holding wrestling matches and other exhibitions of physical strength at their choral, gymnastic and rifle festivals. The champions taking part in these athletic sports belong to the most diverse ranks in the social scale. Thus at a recent festival at Greuchen, a little town in the canton of Soleure, a wealthy property owner and his tenant, a carpenter, stepped into the arena to wrestle according to the rules of the art. There were to be four rounds, or "falls." The stake for each "fall" was one quarter's rent. After the carpenter had thrown his landlord four times the victor's prize was awarded to him, and he accordingly found himself entitled to live in his house rent free for a whole year.

A Henpecked Astrologer.
Lilly, the astrologer and alchemist, could not see for himself sufficiently far into that future which he professed to be able to scan so clearly for others to guard him against making a fool of himself by marrying. He caught a vixen, "of the temper of Mars," to use his own words, and the fact that she brought him £500 as dowry did not count for much in the way of compensation, seeing that "she and her relations cost him £1,000."

Matrimonial Dyspepsia.
"Well, how do you like married life?" inquired the friend.
"Not at all," replied the man who had married money and was suffering for it. "I'm a case of matrimonial dyspepsia."
"Matrimonial dyspepsia?"
"Yes. She never agrees with me; she's too rich."

His Deduction.
The Sunday school teacher had just explained to the juvenile class that the first parents were made from dust.
"Now, Edgar," she said to a bright little fellow, "can you tell me who the first man was?"
"Henry Clay," was the prompt reply. —Chicago News.

As to Truth Telling.
There is an eastern saying which runs: "It is good to know the truth and to tell it. It may be better, knowing the truth, to talk of date stones." —London Truth.

As Bill Nye Saw It.
Bill Nye described a five shot Colt's revolver as "Professor Colt's five volume treatise on the ventilation of the human system." —Kansas City Times.

His Suggestion.
Wigwag—I never knew such a fellow as Bjones. He is always looking for trouble. Henpecked—Then why doesn't he get married? —Boston Courier.

The Change of a Letter.
At the period when British Columbia was threatening to withdraw from the Dominion of Canada because the Caruvon settlement had been ignored by the Mackenzie administration the late Lord Dufferin took part in a public function in Quebec. While the procession was moving through the principal streets a gentleman, breathless with excitement, hurried up to his excellency's carriage to say a "rebel" arch had been placed across the road so as to identify the viceroy with the approval of the disloyal inscription thereon. "Can you tell me what words there are on the arch?" quietly asked Dufferin. "Oh, yes," replied his informant; "they are 'Caruvon Terms or Separation.'" "Send the committee to me," commanded his excellency. "Now, gentlemen," said he, with a smile, to the committee, "I'll go under your beautiful arch on one condition. I won't ask you to do much, and I beg but a trifling favor. I merely ask that you alter one letter in your motto. Turn the S into an R—make it 'Caruvon Terms or Reparation'—and I will gladly pass under it." The committee yielded, and eventually Dufferin contrived to smooth over the difficulties and to reconcile the malecontents.

Odd Street Names.
In Clerkenwell, England, there is a street called Pickled Egg walk. It takes its name from Pickled Egg tavern, which formerly stood there and made a specialty of serving pickled eggs. An interesting London thoroughfare is Hanging Sword alley, which is mentioned in Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities." London has also Picklehering street. In Leicester is a street called the Holy Bones and another called Gallows Tree Gate. Hull has a street with the extraordinary name the Land of Green Ginger. Corydon has a street named Pump Pail, and there some years ago lived Peter Potte, a dealer in furniture. The most daring of farce writers might well have hesitated to invent a combination of name and address so improbable as that which really belonged to Peter Potte of Pump Pail.—St. James' Gazette.

Squaring the Circle.
The origin of the problem squaring the circle is almost lost in the mists of antiquity, but there is a record of an attempted quadrature in Egypt 500 years before the exodus of the Jews. There is also a claim, according to Hone, that the problem was solved by a discovery of Hippocrates, the geometrical Chios—not the physician—500 B. C. Now, the efforts of Hippocrates were devoted toward converting a circle into a crescent, because he had found that the area of a figure produced by drawing two perpendicular radii in a circle is exactly equal to the triangle formed by the line of junction. This is the famous theorem of the "lunes of Hippocrates" and is, like Galileo's salts out of the philosopher's stone, an example of the useful results which sometimes follow a search for the unattainable.

Power of Imagination.
"The imagination is wonderful," said a college professor. "I know a Chicago man who went last summer to Asbury Park. He in a quiet way proved my point. He didn't reach Asbury Park till 10 o'clock at night, and, very tired, he turned in at once. As he settled his head comfortably on the pillow he said to his wife:
"Listen to the thunder and hiss of the surges, Maria. I haven't heard that glorious sound for forty years. No more insomnia now!"
"And, indeed, for the first time in three months the man slept like a log. But when he awoke in the morning he found that the uproar which had lulled him to sleep was the noise of a garage in the rear of the hotel. The sea was over a mile away." —Detroit Free Press.

Runciman and Henley.
It is related that shortly after Runciman, the well known writer on seafarers and smugglers and poachers, had bitterly fallen out with W. E. Henley he lay dying in London. To Henley in Edinburgh, lame and ill, came an indirect message that Runciman believed that if Henley would come and look on him he would get well. It was a dying man's whim, but Henley took the train from Edinburgh and arrived in London to find his friend dead.

Under the Spell.
Dashaway—A few short hours ago I was sitting with a girl, telling her she was the only one in all the world I ever loved, and so forth.
Cleverton—And she believed you, didn't she?
"How could she help it? Why, I believed it myself." —Life

Without Trimmings.
Payne, an examiner at Cambridge university, whose questions were always of a peculiarly exasperating nature, once asked a student at a special examination to "give a definition of happiness."
"An exemption from Payne," was the reply.

Setting Her Right.
Mistress—So you want to leave, Mary? With what motive are you leaving? Cook—It ain't a motive, mum; it's a policeman.—Boston Courier.

Fame.
"Why are statues erected to famous men, father?" said a child.
"So that they may become known, dear," was the answer.—Exchange.
Who by aspersions throw a stone at the head of others hit their own.—Herbert.

The Hat Straw Crop.

The greater part of the straw employed for making summer hats comes from Italy. To obtain a suitable straw for this purpose the wheat is sown as thickly as possible in order that the growth of the plant may be impoverished as well as to produce a thin stalk. The Italian wheat blooms at the beginning of June and is pulled up by hand by the roots when the grain is half developed. Should it be allowed to remain in the ground a longer time the straw would become too brittle for the purpose for which it is grown. Uprooted straws to the number of about five dozen, the size of the compass of the two hands, are firmly tied together in little sheaves and stowed away in barns. After that the straw is again spread out to catch the heavy summer dews and to bleach in the sun. When the product has been sufficiently bleached it is put into small bundles and classified. The next step is to cut it close above the first joint from the top, when it is again tied up in small bundles containing about sixty stalks each and is then ready for the market. —Harper's Weekly.

The Languages of Paradise.

"Every language has its admirers. In 'Lucile' the author, Owen Meredith, maintained that when he heard French spoken as he approved he 'found himself quietly falling in love.' Edward Hutton is another instance of this linguistic fascination. In stating his preference in his enchanting 'Cities of Spain' he recalls an interesting medieval legend. He says: 'And as I listened to the splendid syllables of the Castilian tongue that rang eloquently through the twilight I remembered the saying of that old Spanish doctor of whom James Howell tells us in his 'Instructions for Foraine Travell'—to wit, that Spanish, Italian and French, these three daughters of the Latin language, were spoken in paradise; that God Almighty created the world in Spanish, the tempter persuaded Eve in Italian and Adam begged pardon in French.'

Taste Is Localized.

Taste is curiously localized in the mouth. Put a lump of sugar on the tip of your tongue and you will find it distinctly sweet. Then try it halfway back on the tongue and you will find it tasteless. All sweet or aromatic substances, such as wine, sugar and coffee, can be properly appreciated by the front half of the tongue, a piece of knowledge that every true connoisseur applies when he sips instead of taking a mouthful. With most other substances, however, the reverse is true. In these cases the tip of the tongue serves only for touching—it is the back part that tastes. The sides of the mouth, too, are quite measurable to certain substances not tasteless. Put some salt or vinegar between the teeth and the cheek and you will find them absolutely flavorless. —London Standard.

Wrestling For Rent.

In several cantons of Switzerland the custom prevails of holding wrestling matches and other exhibitions of physical strength at their annual, gymnastic and rifle festivals. The champions taking part in these athletic sports belong to the most diverse ranks in the social scale. Thus at a recent festival at Grenchen, a little town in the canton of Soleure, a wealthy property owner and his tenant, a carpenter, stepped into the arena to wrestle according to the rules of the art. There were to be four rounds, or 'falls.' The stake for each 'fall' was one quarter's rent. After the carpenter had thrown his landlord four times the victor's prize was awarded to him, and he accordingly found himself entitled to live in his house rent free for a whole year.

A Henpecked Astrologer.

Lilly, the astrologer and alchemist, could not see for himself sufficiently far into that future which he professed to be able to scan so clearly for others to guard him against making a fool of himself by marrying. He caught a wren, "of the temper of Mars," to use his own words, and the fact that she brought him £300 as dowry did not count for much in the way of compensation, seeing that "she and her relations cost him £1,000."

Matrimonial Dyspepsia.

"Well, how do you like married life?" inquired the friend. "Not at all," replied the man who had married money and was suffering for it. "I'm a case of matrimonial dyspepsia." "Matrimonial dyspepsia?" "Yes. She never agrees with me; she's too rich."

His Deduction.

The Sunday school teacher had just explained to the juvenile class that the first parents were made from dust. "Now, Edgar," she said to a bright little fellow, "can you tell me who the first man was?" "Henry Clay," was the prompt reply. —Chicago News.

As to Truth Telling.

A Rising Tide

Despite the attempts in certain quarters to knock on the candidacy of John K. Tener for Governor no candidate for this office so soon after his nomination has aroused such a degree of enthusiasm. From every quarter comes expressions of good will and assurances of support, not only from the four corners of the State, but in all parts of the United States. Should Mr. Tener see fit to accept all the offers of assistance that have been tendered by his Congressional colleagues friends he would have an army of spellbinders such as never before entered upon a campaign in the State.

A rising tide of sentiment for Mr. Tener is reported from all sections of the State. Pennsylvania is solidly Republican, and the most that the detractors can argue against Mr. Tener is that he has been regular. To those who believe in the principles of Republicanism this will be a boost instead of a knock, and the rehabilitated party in the State has accomplished all the way of reform that is possible for any party to accomplish.

To Parents

Before your young hopeful blows in his Fourth of July allowance for explosives, take a look over his list and see what he proposes to purchase, and absolutely prohibit the use of blank cartridges and giant crackers, or any cracker powerful enough to blow off a finger, knockout an eye, or eliminate his nose. These adjuncts are valuable to your boy, and he will need them in after life. It is also well to remember that your neighbor's boy has equal use of his bodily appendages.

Another thing to do on the Fourth is to keep an eye on your young hopeful and know what his movements are and where he disports himself. Not only issue your mandates as to his conduct, but make it a point to see that they are obeyed. You may catch him throwing explosives at passing vehicles, autos or into the crowds. Also remember that not only is your own home inflammable, but that of your neighbor's is equally exposed, and that the volunteer firemen are apt to have on their good clothes and feel averse to spoiling the day as well as their attire on account of the lawlessness of your young hopeful. If you are not interested from a humane standpoint, consider the financial end. Doctors and undertakers have increased their rates, and when you come to buy a new household outfit after your home is burned, you will find that the high cost of living is not confined to food products alone.

Independence day is a glorious anniversary, but it is also a day of powder-poisoning and lockjaw, host-tale and ambulances, mutilation, fire and death. Parental vigilance on this day will do much to supplement the restrictions of the law, and every parent should be on the job. Last Fourth 215 boys and girls were killed, and 5,397 were blinded, maimed and injured. A little watchfulness at the proper time will materially reduce this needless slaughter.

The Family Tree

With the advent of the summer months comes the family reunion. This hallowed institution, which first had its origin in wedding and birthday anniversaries, has come to be a regular feature in many of the leading families in every community, until now the "family tree" has taken root and is flourishing where formerly the fields were fallow and "the short and simple annals" of the common people were neglected. Now a family history is becoming a matter of pride and a stimulus to worthy endeavor an achievement.

After all, "blood is thicker than water" and nothing is more sacred than the preservation of the family tie. Aside from sentimental reasons a family history is of inestimable value to society, and its extension throughout the various ramifications should be both a family and a social duty. The family organization is the first unite of government, and inspires and invokes the first obligation of man in the ethical duties he is called on to perform. Not only is it the basis of all civilization, but carefully reserved and carried out from generation, its records reveal the only true history of a people.

Traced back, the family tree of the so-called nobility of Europe finds its origin in the achievements of the children of the soil. Family pride and organization have preserved a cohesion that has exercised a profound influence upon the world's progress. That some of these influences have been perverted does not detract from the value of the system. In this as in everything else, it is character that endures, and the pride of family organization is a powerful factor in preserving its standard through the succeeding generations.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

We know of two fellows out at Reno, Nevada, who are not anticipating a safe and sane celebration of the Fourth of July.

President Taft has gone on his vacation—News Item. Does that mean besides his general vacation?

Talk about heat in a large city. If it's any warmer in New York than it is in Charleroi, that city must be what some people have profanely called it.

People say the newspapers never do print things right, but when they attempt the preparation of articles they discover that the job is not so easy and with them it's an impossibility to "put things just right."

John Mitchell anticipates a good time when he gets to Charleroi, but it is not surprising that he should.

The boy who jumped from the Brooklyn bridge for $250 and a new suit of clothes, wanted that money more than John D. Rockefeller wants the earth.

Among the twenty-five decisive battles of the world might be mentioned that one where John K. Tener beat Ernest F. Acheson for Congress in the 24th Congressional District of Pennsylvania.

The New Castle Herald is authority that Mr. Acheson like the noted Barkis is willin' to run for Governor. In fact he may be considered as a eligibility to "run" for anything.

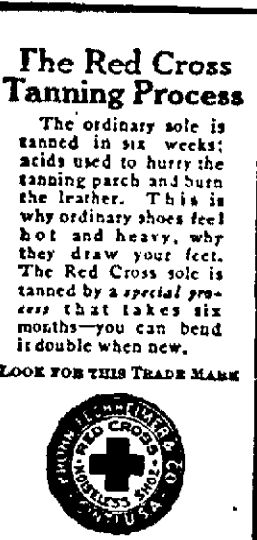

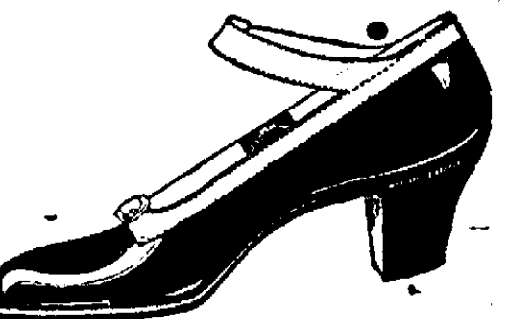

Preparations for the Fourth of July only remind a person that they must hunt up last year's flags or buy new ones.

There's one kind of dress that never goes out of fashion, of which both the ladies of the land and the men are proud—it's the flag.

It's so pleasing to receive news two days after a wedding when you spent three solid hours on the date of the ceremony chasing it up.

The Traveler's Joy.
The crown of tartar tree, which is also called the "sour gourd," grows in northern Australia and has a trunk which measures from seventy to eighty-five feet in circumference, but which is only twenty or thirty feet high. The wood is soft and juicy and when steeped in water provides the thirsty traveler with a refreshing and cooling drink. The fruit is about six inches long, shaped like a lemon and contains a gently acid pulp, which tastes like cream of tartar. Wherever it is to be found a small encampment of weary wayfarers unfurl their tents. When sighted in the bush the famous tree is always greeted with a song written by the early bushrangers called "Sing Hey For the Traveler's Joy."—New York Telegram.

Whatever disgrace we have merited, it is almost always in our power to re-establish our reputation.—La Roche foucauld.

Rough on His Lordship.
A carpenter in an English town having neglected to make a gibbet that had been ordered by the hangman on the ground that he had not been paid for the last one he had erected gave so much offense that the next time the judge came to the circuit he was sent for. "Fellow," said the judge in a stern tone, "how came you to neglect making the gibbet that was ordered on my account?"

"I humbly beg your pardon," replied the carpenter. "Had I known it was for your lordship it would have been done immediately."

Handicapped.
"You ought to save money for your family."

"But what?"
"My family won't let me."—Cleveland Leader.

THE SEPARATION.

Why One Victim Lost Faith in Side Whiskered Brethren.

"Uh-uh!st yo" was gone," said Brother Sigmars, relating the news to Brother Buckaroo, who had been on a journey, "a gentleman peared on de scene yuh wid de notation dat he was a clarryvont and de seventh son o' suppin—I dunnoh what—and was gwine to hold a secession in de lodge hall and show signs and wondahs for de modest sum—two bits for— and 10 cents for betwixt sized childen; pottly pussongage, wid a striped vest and woolly side whiskers, and 'bout the shade, he was, of de opposite side of a fish."

"Wish I'd a-been dar," enviously remarked Brother Buckaroo.

"Wish yo' had, sah, uh-kaze I likes sympathy. 'Well, de side whiskered gentleman took de money at de do', and de house was plumb packed, and den he blowed out de lights and 'nounced in a grizzly voice for every body to set right still, uh-kaze for de fast spearmint he was uh gwine to whirl in and separate deir souls fum deir bodies."

"Mum-uh-uh Lawd, sah! Did he do it?"

"Not so's yo' could notice it. We dess sot and sot and waited and waited, and bimeby a gambler man dat wasn't skeered begun to snawt, and den he lit a light, and behold, the paffessah was gone! He'd done separated us smalt growed folks fum our two bits apiece and de buyent children fum deir dimes and was gone fum us. Den's all dar was to it, 'ceppln' it clothes de smaltin' spearmint's had for, de dese many days dat a nigger wid side whiskers dess nat'ally kahn't be right."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Shakespeare's Handicap.

Mrs. Montmorency Smythe. — And what were you reading when I came in, my dear? Shakespeare! Ah! What a wonderful man! And to think that he wasn't exactly what one would call a gentleman!—London Punch.

Conceded.

"Is he conceded?" "Conceded? I should say he is. He even imagines that he cut some figure at his own wedding."—Detroit Free Press.

Our friends must be more and not less so in the other world than they are here. This world only begins friendships.—Phillips Brooks.

Consul King David.

This amusing anecdote of Lamartine is related by the Baroness Bonde in her volume of letters. Shortly after the revolution of February he wrote on the blank leaves of his pocketbook the names of his proteges and sent the list to be provided with places immediately. Previously, however, it seems, he had scribbled "David" on the page, and the head of the cabinet appointed the said David consul at Bremen. The postulant, however, never came forward, and though the poet did not like being disturbed, M. Hatzel was obliged to ask who was the David on his list.

"He who danced before the ark," was the answer.

"Oh, dear! I have gazed at him in Bremen."

"How very singular! I meant him for a subject for meditation, not for nomination. But you can cancel it."

The minister registered the change, but few knew that the last consul appointed to Bremen was King David.

VISITING CARDS.

Names and Messages Used to Be Scribbled on Playing Cards.

It is somewhat curious that so useful an invention as the visiting card should have been unknown to society until comparatively recent times. Yet 150 years ago the carte de visite did not exist. The belles of the seventeenth century used nothing in the shape of a name card, or "ticket," as it was afterward called. Invitations to routs and drums as well as names and addresses were written across the backs of playing cards, which in those days were made with a white reverse and innocent of the intricate pattern familiar to us in modern times.

Mary Wortley Montagu, a lady of ton, says the Connoisseur, would be apt to use a red playing card—a queen of hearts—for ordinary social purposes, while an amorous beau inscribed his name and the most tender of inquiries on the back of a jack of spades. The great world of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries was a small world. It was rigidly exclusive. Living in the same quarter of the town, the quality sent each other scribbled messages by the hand of a favorite page. Society, in a word, was informal in the midst of stately formalities, and we have no difficulty in believing the Comtesse de Boigne when she tells us that in 1800 Lady Harlington used to trot up and down Bond street picking up guests for a party for the same night.

Soused.

Wife—My husband came home from the club last night with such a swelled head that I haven't been able to arouse him today. Neighbor—Why don't you try pouring a pitcher of water over his head? Wife—I did that very thing, but the only thing he did was to call out for an umbrella.—Fleegende Blatter.

Love Taps.

Mrs. Jawback—I suppose you consider your judgment far superior to mine. Mr. Jawback—No, my dear. We proved the contrary when we chose to marry each other.—Cleveland Leader.

Big Week at McKeesport

Governor Stuart has accepted an invitation to be present at the Old Home Week Celebration at McKeesport July 3 to 9. He will be present all day Thursday, July 7. Great preparation have been made for a big week's celebration. Including four monster parades, fire works, displays, aquatic sports, etc. Thousands of invitations have been sent to former McKeesporters and others and a royal welcome awaits any who may attend.

Growing Bananas.

Bananas are, as a rule, planted out systematically in rows, the "suckers" being placed at an average of ten feet apart. The banana plant bears only one bunch at a time, but it is a quick grower, yielding its fruit in twelve to fourteen months. When the plant is about six months old a second "sucker" or shoot is allowed to spring from the root, a third after the ninth month, and so on, so that after the first year there is a continuous crop being reaped.

Books.

Only Wanted His Consent.
He was well dressed and breezy, and when he entered the private office of the great tea merchant he looked capable of doing anything from selling books to writing up insurance.
"I have come, sir," he announced without hesitation, "to get your consent."
"Consent for what?" demanded the old man without looking up.
"Well, er, you see, your daughter"—
"Oh, I understand now. So you like my daughter, eh?"
"I think she is the finest young woman I have met in many months. As I was saying, if you'll give your consent she will have the handsomest"—
"Come, come! Don't get vain and say she's the finest husband if she accepts you."
"I'm married, sir. I'm trying to tell you that if you give your consent she'll have the handsomest wife in the town. She's dead stuck on it, and if you'll consent and put up $1,000 cash we will."
But the great tea merchant had collapsed.—Chicago News.

A Selfish Proposition.
A gentleman, resident at Harrow, made frequent complaints to the masters of the great school there of his garden being stripped of its fruit, even before it became ripe, but to no purpose.
Tired of applying to the masters for redress, he at length appealed to the boys, and, sending for one to his house, he said: "Now, my good fellow, I'll make this agreement with you and your companions. Let the fruit remain on the trees till it becomes ripe, and I promise to give you half."
The boy coolly replied: "I can say nothing to the proposition, sir, myself, but will make it known to the rest of the boys and inform you of their decision tomorrow."
Next day came and brought with it this reply: "The gentlemen of Harrow cannot agree to receive so unequal a share, since Mr. — is an individual and we are many."—London Sketch.

Realism.
"When I was in London," said Miss Warner to the little group of friends round the dinner table who were listening to her account of some amusing experiences she had abroad last summer, "I tried to be as British as I could, but I was constantly getting mixed in my English phrases."
"You know one of the underground railroads in London is always spoken of as the 'tuppenny tube,' so one day when I wished to be transported in a hurry from one side of the city to the other I astonished a big, pleasant faced bobby by asking where was the nearest station of the 'tuppenny tub.'"
Every one at the table laughed except the young Scotch guest. He leaned across the board and said, very seriously, "Ye know ye caan get a bawth in Lunnon for tuppence."

Our Elastic Globe.
Nothing seems more rigid than the crust of the earth, but scientists tell us that it bends and buckles appreciably under the pull of the heavenly bodies. Careful observation has also shown that the shores on opposite sides of a tidal basin approach each other at high tide. The weight of water in the Irish sea, for instance, is much greater at that time than the bed sinks a trifle and consequently pulls the Irish and English coasts nearer together. The buildings of Liverpool and Dublin may be fancied as bowing to each other across the channel, the deflection from perpendicular being about one inch for every sixteen miles. It has been shown, too, that ordinary valleys widen under the heat of the sun and contract again at night. We live not on a rigid but an elastic globe.

In a Maori Wooing House.
Among the Maoris sometimes in the where matoro (the wooing house), a building in which the young of both sexes assembled for play, songs, dances, etc., there would be at stated times a meeting. When the fires burned low a girl would stand up in the dark and say: "I love So-and-so. I want him for my husband." If he coughed (sign of assent) or said "Yes" it was well; if only dead silence, she covered her head with her robe and was ashamed. This was not often, as she generally had managed to ascertain either by her own inquiry or by sending a girl friend if the proposal was acceptable. On the other hand, sometimes a mother would attend and say, "I want So-and-so for my son." If not acceptable there was generally mocking, and she was told to let the young people have their house (the wooing house) to themselves.

Pepys and the Comet.
On Dec. 11, 1664, Pepys, the diarist, records, "My Lord Sandwich this day writes me word that he hath seen at Portsmouth the comet and says it is the most extraordinary thing he ever saw." Again, three days later, he writes, "Having sat up all night till past 2 o'clock this morning, our porter, being appointed, comes and tells us that the bellman tells him that the star is seen upon Tower hill, so I and my boy to Tower hill, it being a most fine bright moonshine night and a great frost, but no comet to be seen." Later the same day, however, Pepys did see the comet, "which now, whether worn away or no, I know not, appears not with a tail, but only is larger and duller than any other star."—Westminster Gazette.

The Greatest Celebration of its kind ever given in Western Pennsylvania. A parade two miles in length. The world's epochs and dramatic incidents told in living, animated tableaux that will cause the old to enjoy thrills of amazement and make lasting impressions upon the children.
Great Tug of War Contest Between Teams of Each Nationality.

A Glorious Day of Pleasure from Early Morn till Late at Night!
EVERYBODY CORDIALLY INVITED!

The Generous Arab.
 "One day when in our wanderings we happened to camp near some rolling country the sheik and I rode off in search of gazelles," says a traveler in Arabia. "We found a large herd, and, being mounted on good horses, we managed to ride them down, throwing ourselves off our horses for the shot, then galloping on again. We killed six gazelles in about an hour and rode back to camp with enough meat for a big feast. It is the custom that whoever kills game should provide a feast for all his friends. On the occasion of these feasts I noticed that there was always a crowd of hangers-on waiting at the end for a scrap of food, half starved looking boys and ragged men. These were orphans whose parents had been killed by other Arabs, and as a result they were destitute, for the life of the Bedouin is survival of the fittest in its strictest sense. But the sheik supplied food liberally, and I noticed that he always looked after the poor and fed the hungry."

A Life Saving Order.
 Many years ago the American warship Delaware came near foundering off the coast of Scotland while making through a heavy squall during a morning watch. The "unauthorized" letting go of the fore sheet alone saved the ship from going down with 1,100 souls on board. The first lieutenant, afterward Commodore Thomas W. Wyman, with difficult climbing succeeded in reaching the quarterdeck, where, snatching the trumpet from the officer in charge, his first order, given in a voice heard distinctly fore and aft, was, "Keep clear of the paint work." This command to hundreds of human beings packed in the ice scuppers like sardines in a box instantly restored them to order and prevented a panic, they naturally feeling that if at such a time, with a line of battle ship on her beam ends, clean paint work was of paramount importance their condition could not be a serious one.

The Baby Stare.
 Have you ever sat opposite in bus or train to a baby, say, from one to two years old? If you have you have been compelled to notice it. And unless you are a misanthropical person I guess you have caught yourself feeling uncomfortable under its wide eyed scrutiny of you. I think there is nothing more disconcerting than to be rejected by a baby after full and open cross examination. Babies and very young children have no humbug about them. I believe they see more than grownups. I believe they read our characters down to the very ground. While the young mother is interested to find that her baby is being admired that baby is reckoning up both the mother and the admirer, and when the jerky turn of the head comes the man that has music in his soul feels small. —London Scraps.

When Dreams Came True.
 An English magazine records two dream stories. In one a lady, having lost an important key while walking in a wood near her house in Ireland, dreamed that she saw it lying at the foot of a certain tree. Next day she found it there. She supposed her eye must have seen it after it dropped, though her conscious mind had not instantly noted it.
 Just the same was the theory of a barrister who went out late at night to post his letters and upon undressing missed a check for a large amount received during the day. He dreamed he saw it curled round an area railing not far from his door, woke up, dressed, went out and found it exactly as he had dreamed. The mind registers at times what it does not instantly report.

Something Wrong.
 An Australian auctioneer who was reputed to have more education than professional ability was endeavoring to sell some cattle to an audience of farm hands. "Gentlemen," he began, "I have a particularly nice lot of bullocks and bullocks, and I may say that the eifers predominate."
 He was interrupted by a very agricultural voice from the crowd. "I thought there was something wrong with em," it said, "or you wouldn't have to sell 'em."

A Timely Trip.
 Little Brother (who has just been given some candy)—If I were you I wouldn't take sister yachting this afternoon.
 Ardent Suitor—Why do you say that, Tommy?
 "Well, I heard her tell mother this morning that she feared she'd have to throw you over." —Lippincott's.

Education.
 What sculpture is to a block of marble education is to a human soul. The philosopher, the saint and the hero, the wise, the good and the great man very often lie hid and concealed in a plebeian, which a proper education might have discovered and brought to light. Addison.

Saving the Oil.
 "In Cairo," said a journalist, "I heard a queer yarn about the fellahin. The fellahin are the native ruralists. They are very poor. Well, when the British built the Egyptian state railway the officials were astounded at the enormous quantities of train oil that disappeared. They knew that all this oil couldn't be used for lubricating purposes, so they made an investigation and found that it had become the staple food of the poor fellahin. The railroad detectives reported that the fellahin all over Egypt were using the Egyptian state railway's train oil as their chief support. They buttered their bread with train oil. They fried their fish in train oil. They made a kind of suet pudding with train oil as a base. They drank train oil sealed as a flesh producer or builder up. So the railway officials united with the suet and the fellahin after a year's mulling and vain effort to accustom their systems to the mixture decided to give train oil up."

The Giant Bible.
 There is in the Royal library at Stockholm among other curiosities a manuscript work known as the giant Bible on account of its extraordinary dimensions. It measures 90 centimeters in length and is 50 centimeters in breadth—that is, about 35 by 19 inches. It requires three men to lift it. There are 309 pages, but seven have been lost. The parchment of which the book is composed required the skins of 160 asses. There are two columns on each page, and the book contains the Old and New Testaments, with extracts from Josephus. The initial letters are illuminated. The binding is of oak, four and one-half centimeters in thickness. The book narrowly escaped destruction in the fire in the royal palace of Stockholm in 1697. It was saved, but somewhat damaged, by being thrown out of a window. —London Globe.

The English Manor House Bathroom.
 A writer in the American Magazine gives the following directions by which a visitor may always find the household bathroom in an old English manor house:
 "The household bathroom may be reached by descending the narrow stone steps from the second floor back of the north battlement. Follow the fall in a southeasterly direction until you come to the armor gallery, then turn sharply to the left and follow the corridor to the top. Open the door at the end of this long hall and take a half flight of stone steps (Oliver Cromwell once kissed a serving maid in this dark passage on the right and passed into the open hall at the end. You will easily discover the bathroom, because it is the fourth door from the mullion window, a beautiful piece of glass of Charles II's time."

Didn't Like Course Dinners.
 A colored woman, native of the south, had been working for a flat dwelling family of moderate means in the east end, but resigned recently to accept a place bringing higher wages with a wealthy family who live in a large house on Euclid heights and have their dinner served in courses every night just as if there was company. This colored woman had been brought up to put everything on the table at once, with the exception possibly of the dessert, and did not take kindly to the course system. A few days ago her former mistress met her

on the street and inquired how she liked her new place.
 "Oh, not very well," she replied. "I don't like this hyah way of suv'ing things in courses. The's too much shiftin' o' the dishes for the fewness o' the vittles." —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Scotsman's English.
 A true specimen of the highland man's difficulties with the English language:
 Farmer (who had instructed his Gaelic shepherd to look for a number of sheep that had wandered from the fold)—Well, Donald, have you found them?
 "Aye, mister."
 "Where did you get them?"
 "Well, got two by itself, one together and three among one of Mc-Phearsan's." —London News.

Own up.
 A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying, in other words, that he is wiser today than he was yesterday. —Pope.

A Guess at It.
 Teacher (to class in grammar)—What do you understand by "parts of speech?" Tommy—It's—it's what a man stutters. —Chicago Tribune.

A Soft Place.
 First Artist—Reduced to a draught for a pillow, old chap? Second Artist—Idiot! Can't you see it's filled with straw? —Bon Vivant.

The Sharks.
 "Did you see sharks when you crossed the ocean, Mr. Spiffkins?" asked Miss Purling.
 "Yes," replied Spiffkins sadly. "I played cards with a couple."

ANTI-TETANUS

SERUM TO BE

DISTRIBUTED

Health Commissioner Dixon has completed all arrangements for the free distribution of tetanus anti-toxin for use in cases of poor children in Pennsylvania injured by explosives on the Fourth of July.

The anti-toxin will be supplied at 60 points in the State. These points have been so selected that there will be a station within 24 hours reach of any place in Pennsylvania. It is necessary that the anti-toxin be administered within a forty eight hours after the wound has been inflicted. Any physician can secure the State's tetanus anti-toxin free upon application to one of the distributing stations and upon certifying that it is for the treatment of a person too poor to pay.

Dr. Dixon urges the necessity of prompt use of the anti-toxin in case of explosive wounds in order to ward off lockjaw. "Do not consider any such wound trivial," he says. "Send for a physician at once. If he cannot be secured promptly wash out the wound thoroughly in the meantime and apply a hot antiseptic."

The distributing points most available to Charleroi are: Valentine Bros., Washington; R. E. Springer, Uniontown; Walker's Pharmacy, McKeesport; A. F. Martin, Greensburg.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

An Expert Opinion of Skin Diseases.

A prominent, national expert on skin diseases whose name you are familiar with says that in all his scientific experience he has never found so hard a disease to conquer as Eczema. Yet he does not hesitate to recommend ZEMO as a most successful remedy for the treatment of Eczema, itching skin diseases, dandruff, pimples, blackheads and all other diseases of the skin and scalp. He says that not only does its curative qualities make it popular but also the fact that it is a clean, liquid remedy for external use, a great improvement over the old style greasy salves and lotions which are not only unpleasant to use but do not destroy the germ life that causes the disease. ZEMO draws the germs to the surface and destroys them leaving the skin clear and healthy. Can be used freely on infants. Mr. Piper will gladly supply those who call with a free sample bottle of ZEMO and a booklet which explains in simple language all about skin diseases and how to cure yourself at home with ZEMO.

CHRISTIANS WIN PROTESTED GAME OF PRESBYTERIANS

The Christians through doing things when things counted, and by the timely aid of bases on balls, took the game from the First Presbyterians last night by the score of 6 to 4. The game was played under protest on account of Waters, claimed to be from Donora. The First Presbyterians got their entire four scores in the first inning, on three hits and two errors. The Christians got their first touch for a run in the fourth inning, on a two base hit, and an error. In the fifth they coupled with two runs, on two bases on balls and a two base hit. In the sixth three scores were the result, on a homer, two bases on balls and a two base swipe. The score:

LAND COMPANY'S MOVEMENTS INDICATE NEW STEEL PLANT

Gathering up All Ground
Adjoining Chemical
Works

MARKET FOR BY-PRODUCT

Chemical Company Has
Waste in Production of
Pig Iron

Through a move being made by the General Land Company at Newell securing possession of land adjoining
the General Chemical company's plant and existing conditions at the plant, the rumor that a steel
plant is to be located at Newell is given foundation. The March-land Company is securing about 67 acres of ground from individuals to whom they had sold the land previously, offering in exchange lots east
of the railroad tracks.

The General Chemical company in
its manufacture of sulphuric acid
has a by-product of 60 percent iron
which is ready to reduce to pig iron,
but for which they are unable to find
a market. If there was a steel plant
or a furnace at Newell, there would be a market created for this by-product. The site is a good one for a steel plant, and has been looked over
by steel corporations.

In their manufacture of sulphuric
acid the General Chemical company
uses iron pyrites imported from Spain
by the way of Baltimore. After the sulphuric acid is extracted, these
pyrites are pressed into bricks and
the sulphur burned out, leaving 60 percent iron. At present this is a waste.
The chemical company is planning
to double their sulphuric acid plant
and put in a muriatic acid and hydrochloric acid plant. There is a demand for all three kinds of acid
although the most demand is of course
for the sulphuric acid.

Telephone Company Announces Results

Big Fight Will be Covered Fully
by Long Distance Service.

The Charleroi Telephone company has made arrangements for the announcing of the Jeffries-Johnston battle by rounds on Monday afternoon and evening. The results will be announced from the balcony in front of their office, in the Schuyler building, 409 McKean avenue and from the Charleroi Real Estate office on McKean avenue and Fifth street.
The company with its usual progressiveness was able to establish almost direct service to the ringside, and thus enabled to announce the results as quickly as they are received in Pittsburg or other Eastern cities.

FACTORY IS SHUT DOWN FOR SUMMER

MANAGER LEAVING HERE

The Imperial Bottle factory closed yesterday for the summer shut down of nine weeks, and the blowers and their friends are enjoying a day's outing at Beechwood Park today.
Yesterday afternoon Andrew Meisner,
the manager of the plant, who is going to Florida to locate, was given a diamond ring and a shaving set by the employees in token of the esteem in which he is held.

The re-opening of the factory will be about the first of September. Two tanks have been in operation at the plant and it has been running steady-
ly. There has been no lack of orders and conditions are good.

FAYETTE COUNTY COURT PASSES BRIDGE MATTER

The Fayette county court handed down a decision yesterday approving
the report of the viewers with regard to the freeing of the Belle Vernon bridge. A similar report was made by Washington county a few weeks ago. This closes the legal proceedings for the present. The viewers have fixed the price of the structure at $50,000 and as this price is accepted by the bridge company it will be but a short time until the entire proceedings will be closed and the structure declared free to the public. Should the price not be acceptable to the owners it is likely that a bond will be put up for the full amount of the price asked and condemnation proceedings be instituted. At any rate it looks as though Belle Vernon will get the free bridge.

COMPROMISE TERMS ARE AGREED UPON

Strike of the Miners Called off Through Agreements Reached by Operators
and Miners.

Advices from Pittsburg this morning are to the effect that there will
be no strike of the 40,000 coal miners
of the Pittsburg district. This positive statement was made last evening
by President Francis Feehan of District No. 5 United Mine Workers
after the scale committees of the operators and miners had had an all day
session in Pittsburg. The executive boards of the two bodies will meet
today to adopt the agreement of the
scale committee, which was composed of M. H. Taylor of the Pittsburg Coal company and John H. Jones of the Pittsburg-Buffalo Coal company
for the operators and President Feehan and George Daggar for the miners.

BYRON KING AT MONESSEN

Noted Elocutionist Will Appear in Neighbor Town
on Fourth

There is hardly a housewife in Monessen this week who is not busily
engaged in helping to make the
numerous costumes which are to be used in the Pageant of Nations on July Fourth. The soldiers and sailors all
require special uniforms of course and Uncle Sam will have no reason to be
ashamed of the representatives of his
who turn out in the parade.
Those who enjoy a real, old-fashioned, patriotic Fourth of July speech will be drawn to Monessen on
the Fourth to hear Byron W. King,
the famous Pittsburg orator and
owner of King's School of Oratory.
Mr. King was secured by H. R. Pore,
president of the Board of Trade, who
is a personal friend of the elocutionist.

The interest which is manifested in
the Pageant is only secondary by a very small degree to the interest in
the sports, which take place immediately afterwards at the park. Following are the events, in which a representative of each nationality will
take part:

Tug of War—First prize, $25.00
up; second prize, $15.00
One mile relay—Gold, silver and
bronze medals.
One-half mile obstacle race—Gold,
silver and bronze medals.
100 yard dash—Gold, silver and
bronze medals.
220 yard dash—Gold, silver and
bronze medals.
Those who come to Monessen on July Fourth will witness one of the
most interesting spectacles of modern
times. The Pageant will contain
about forty floats and the bands,
marching clubs, cadets and secret
societies will swell the ranks to one
of the largest processions ever given
in the Monongahela valley.

BRIGADE PLANS TO TAKE POSTPONED "HIKE" SATURDAY

The Charleroi Boys Brigade will
take their postponed "hike" to Ben-
tleyville on Saturday night for a camping out over Sunday. The boys will meet at the Tennis Court at 6:30
o'clock to leave Charleroi at 7 o'clock.
They will then march to Bentleyville,
to camp about a mile and a half from
the town. Sunday they will take dinner at a Bentleyville Hotel, and
return home Monday morning early.

The Everhart Studio under the management of Miss Jessie Everhart will
be open on Saturday for all kinds of
photographic work, including finishing
and developing amateur work, a
specialty being made of high class
portraiture. Everhart Studio, successor
to McDonald's, corner Fifth and Fal-

OFFICIALS ARE SUED

Charleroi Woman Seeks
$5,000 Damages for False Arrest.

Catherine Fram of Charleroi, has
filed a suit for $5,000 damages against
Chief of Police C. W. Albright, Officer George McDowney and Burgess George W. Risbeck. This is alleged due for assault, false imprisonment, abuse and other humili-
ations. The offense she states occurred
on May 1, 1910. The plaintiff avers
she was taken by Albright and Mc-
Eldowney through the streets of Charleroi to the office of Risbeck and
there $11.85 demanded of her. Upon
her refusal to pay this she says she
was imprisoned. It is understood the
trouble is the second chapter of a dispute between the plaintiff and her
neighbors over a sanitary sewer. The
sewer controversy was recently
thruled out in court.

DEMOCRATS WILL MEET SATURDAY AT WASHINGTON

The meeting of the Democrat
county committee will be held in the
public meeting room of the court house
Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. H.
H. Wilson, of Beaver, Democratic
candidate for congress from the 24th
congressional district will be present
and make an address to the delegates.
The present officers of the county
committee are James A. Bubbett,
chairman; John N. Patterson, treasurer; H. D. Hamilton and John M.
F. Hana, of Washington, and W. S.
Shepler of Monongahela; secretaries.
It is stated that Mr. Bubbett seeks
re-election to the office of chairman
and so far it seems no other candidates have announced themselves.

HORSE FRIGHTENS AT TIRE OF WHEEL SCRAPING THE CURB

When a horse of Dr. J. Clive
Enos, frightened at the wheels of
the wagon to which it was hitched
scraping against the curb, ran away
yesterday afternoon, one wagon was
nearly demolished, and two others
damaged somewhat. The horse started
from in front of Dr. Enos' home on Fifth street and ran down the hill.
To it was hitched a wagon of Livery-
man Dr. Kimmell. At the corner of Fifth street and Washington avenue,
the wagon bumped into one of R. W.
Bayne's being driven up the street
by Sol. Minney, and the front axle
of the latter vehicle was broken. It
then bumped into the grocery wagon
of Carson's Grocery, and did some damage. The horse was brought to
a standstill.

FILTRATION PLANT WILL COMPARE WITH SCRANTON'S

Former Charleroi
Boy Admitted to Bar

Will Take up Practice of Law
in the District of Columbia.

On Monday of this week Lawrence
J. Koters, formerly of Charleroi,
and the son of John Koters of Lincoln avenue, was admitted to the bar
of the Supreme Court of the District
of Columbia. Mr. Koters has been
in Washington for about four years
now, employed in the Treasury Department, and at the same time studying law. He was successful in his examinations, and the degree of
Master of Laws was conferred on him
June 6 by the National University
Law School at Washington, D. C.

WILL HOLD RECEPTION AT HOTEL

Public Will be Given Opportunity to Meet Fourth
Speakers

WILL CARRY OUT PROGRAM

In connection with the Fourth of July celebration in Charleroi,
the visit of Hon. John Mitchell, and Judge J. F. Taylor of Washington, a public reception for both will be held
in the parlors of the Wilbur Hotel
shortly after noon Monday, when all
so pleased may meet both esteemed
gentlemen. They will be entertained during their stay here at the Wilbur Hotel, which will be the Fourth headquarters. It will be the occasion of John Mitchell's first visit
to Charleroi, and this being a mining
center, he will be much pleased to
meet the miners and their friends
here.

Speaking will be in the morning in
the "Pines" by Messrs
Mitchell and Taylor, and they will go to Eldora Park after the public reception in company with Hon. J. K.
Tener.

Chairman James G. Pentz, of the
invitation and reception committee
announced this morning that everything of which they had charge would
be carried out according to
program.

At McKean's Auction

At the auction last night Mrs. O.
Workman received a present of a set
of silver spoons. This was the sixth
present given away by Mr. McKean
since the auction started. Another
one will be given away this afternoon and tonight, also Saturday
afternoon. Saturday night the big prize will be given. Chairs reserved
for ladies. 268t1

Combination of Latest Designs in Construction

CHEMICALS WILL BE USED

Water Will go Through Several Processes to be Th-
roughly Filtered

In construction and design, Char-
leroi is to have one of the model fil-
tration plants of the state, and one
that will compare with the one at Scranton, considered to be the best in Pennsylvania. The work on the filtration plant which was started some time ago is going along well. Phil
and Miller of Pittsburgh, being the
contractors. W. J. Flaherty is the representative of the company in charge here, F. S. Adams is the water
company's man in charge, and Milton
Stein represents the engineering department of the water company.

One of the most noticeable features
of the entire work is the thoroughness
of construction. The design is a combination of all the latest and most
approved ideas for filtration plants.

In the filter tubs is where the real
technical work and skill comes.
These have to be constructed to remove
all typhoid germs and all impurities
from the water and to oxidize the
vegetable and animal matter which
comes from the sewage entering the river up the river. In the purification of the water, chemicals are used,
among these being aluminum sulphate,
and calcium chloride, the latter a late
discovery of the extermination of typhoid germs. Air blasts are used
to blow air up through the water,
this being done by a rotary blowing
apparatus, blowing at the rate of five pounds per square inch. There will be six filter tubs.

The water when it comes from the
river is first taken into the sedimentation basins, and from there into the coagulant house. Thence the
water goes into the filter tubs, having
lost part of its impure properties in
the sedimentation basin, and in other
processes. After the killing of the
germs and other processes of filtration,
in these filter tubs the water passes
into the clear water basin, and from
there goes to the reservoir.

The new pumping engine is expected to arrive in two weeks and will
be installed at once in the pump station, which is being enlarged. The Charleroi plant will be a better one
though smaller than Pittsburgh's. It
will be more thoroughly constructed
and in design superior. Proportion-
ately it will cost more.

CENSUS SUPERVISOR SENDING IN FINAL REPORTS TO BUREAU

Census Supervisor Charles O. Frye
has about completed the examination
of the work of the enumerators in the 21st district and sent in the greater
part of his completed schedule
today. The Department of Census
will make a report of the population
about the first of October. The
duties of many supervisor's clerks
over the county have terminated, and
they are no longer on the government
pay roll.

The Hat Straw Crop.
The greater part of the straw employed for making summer hats comes from Italy. To obtain a suitable straw, this purpose the wheat is sown as thickly as possible in order that the roots of the plant may be impoverished, as well as to produce a thin stalk. The Italian wheat blooms at the beginning of June and is pulled up by hand by the roots when the grain is half developed. Should it be allowed to remain in the ground a longer time the straw would become too brittle for the purpose for which it is grown. Propped straws to the number of about five dozen, the size of the heads of the two hands, are firmly tied together in little sheaves and stowed away in barns. After that the straw is again spread out to catch the heavy summer dews and to bleach in the sun. Then the product has been sufficiently bleached it is put into small bundles and classified. The next step is to cut close above the first joint from the top, when it is again tied up in small bundles containing about sixty stalks each and is then ready for the market. Harper's Weekly.

The Languages of Paradise.
Every language has its admirers. In "Lucile" the author, Owen Meredith, maintained that when he heard French spoken as he supposed to be "coming into" himself quietly falling in love. Edward Burton is another instance of this unusual fascination. In stating his preference in his enchanting "Cities of Pain" he recalls an interesting medieval legend. He says:
"And as I listened to the splendid syllables of the Castilian tongue that rung eloquently through the twilight I remembered the saying of that old Spanish doctor of whom James Howell tells us in his 'Instructions For orraine Travell'—to wit, that Spanish, Italian and French, these three daughters of the Latin language, were spoken in paradise; that God Almighty created the world in Spanish, the emperor persuaded Eve in Italian and Sam begg'd pardon in French."

Taste Is Localized.
Taste is curiously localized in the mouth. Put a lump of sugar on the tip of your tongue and you will find it distinctly sweet. Then try it halfway back on the tongue and you will find it tasteless. All sweet or aromatic substances, such as wine, sugar and coffee, can be properly appreciated by the front half of the tongue, a piece of knowledge that every true connoisseur applies when he sips instead of taking mouthfuls. With most other substances, however, the reverse is true. In these cases the tip of the tongue serves only for touching—it is the back that tastes. The sides of the mouth, too, are quite insensible to certain substances not tasteless. Put a pinch of salt or vinegar between the teeth and the cheek and you will find them absolutely flavorless.—London Standard.

Wrestling For Rent.
In several cantons of Switzerland the custom prevails of holding wrestling matches and other exhibitions of physical strength at their choral, gymnastic and rifle festivals. The clowns taking part in these athletic sports belong to the most diverse ranks in the social scale. Thus at a recent festival at Grenchen, a little town in the canton of Solence, a wealthy property owner and his tenant, a carpenter, stepped into the arena to wrestle according to the rules of the art. There were to be four "falls." The stake for each "fall" was one quarter's rent. After the carpenter had thrown his landlord four times the victor's prize was awarded him, and he accordingly found himself entitled to live in his house rent free for a whole year.

A Henpecked Astrologer.
Lilly, the astrologer and alchemist, could not see for himself sufficiently into that future which he professed to be able to scan so clearly for others to guard him against making a fool of himself by marrying. He caught a fire, "of the temper of Mars," to use his own words, and the fact that she bought him £500 as dowry did not count for much in the way of compensation, seeing that "she and her relations cost him £1,000."

Matrimonial Dyspepsia.
"Well, how do you like married life?" inquired the friend.
"Not at all," replied the man who had married money and was suffering from it. "I'm a case of matrimonial dyspepsia."
"Matrimonial dyspepsia?"
"Yes. She never agrees with me; he's too rich."

His Deduction.
The Sunday school teacher had just explained to the juvenile class that the first parents were made from dust.
"Now, Edgar," she said to a bright little fellow, "can you tell me who the first man was?"
"Henry Clay," was the prompt reply. —Chicago News.

As to Truth Telling.
There is an eastern saying which runs: "It is good to know the truth and to tell it. It may be better, however, to know the truth and not to tell it." —London Truth.

As Bill Nye Saw It.
Bill Nye described a fire shot collar as "Professor Colt's five volume treatise on the ventilation of the human system." —Kansas City Times.

His Suggestion.
"Why don't you ever know such a fellow as Henpeck?" He is always looking for trouble. Henpeck?—Then why doesn't he get married?—Boston Courier.

The Change of a Letter.
At the period when British Columbia was threatening to withdraw from the Dominion of Canada because the Carman settlement had been ignored by the MacKenzie administration the late Lord Dufferin took part in a public discussion in London. When the discussion was waning through the principal streets a gentleman, breathless with excitement, hurried up to his excellency's carriage to say a "rebel" arch had been placed across the road so as to identify the viceroy with the approval of the disloyal inscription thereon. "Can you tell me what words there are on the arch?" quietly asked Dufferin. "Oh, yes," replied his informant; "they are 'Carman Terms or Separation!'" "Send the committee to me," commanded his excellency. "Now, gentlemen," said he, with a smile, to the committee, "I'll go under your beautiful arch on one condition. I won't ask you to do much, and I beg but a trifling favor. I merely ask that you alter one letter in your motto. Turn the S into an R—make it 'Carman Terms or Reparation!'—and I will gladly pass under it." The committee yielded, and eventually Dufferin contrived to smooth over the difficulties and to reconcile the malcontents.

Odd Street Names.
In Charleston, England, there is a street called Pickled Egg walk. It takes its name from Pickled Egg tavern, which formerly stood there and made a specialty of serving pickled eggs. An interesting London thoroughfare is Hanging Sword alley, which is mentioned in Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities." London has also Pickleberry street. In Leicester is a street called the Holy Bones and another called Gallows Tree Gate. Hull has a street with the extraordinary name the Land of Green Ginner. Corby has a street named Pump Pail, and there some years ago lived Peter Potte, a dealer in furniture. The most daring of farce writers might well have hesitated to invent a combination of name and address so improbable as that which really belonged to Peter Potte of Pump Pail.—St. James' Gazette.

Squaring the Circle.
The origin of the problem squaring the circle is almost lost in the mists of antiquity, but there is a record of an attempted quadrature in Egypt 5000 years before the exodus of the Jews. There is also a claim, according to Hone, that the problem was solved by a discovery of Hippocrates, the geometer of Chios—not the physician—500 B. C. Now, the efforts of Hippocrates were devoted toward converting a circle into a crescent, because he had found that the area of a figure produced by drawing two perpendicular radii in a circle is exactly equal to the triangle formed by the line of junction. This is the famous theorem of the "lunes of Hippocrates" and is, like Euclid's salts out of the philosopher's stone, an example of the useful results which sometimes follow a search for the unattainable.

Power of Imagination.
"The imagination is wonderful," said a college professor. "I know a Chicago man who went last summer to Asbury Park. He in a quiet way proved my point. He didn't reach Asbury Park till 10 o'clock at night, and, very tired, he turned in at once. As he settled his head comfortably on the pillow he said to his wife:
"Listen to the thunder and hiss of the surf, Maria. I haven't heard that glorious sound for forty years. No more insomnia now!"
"And, indeed, for the first time in three months the man slept like a log. But when he awoke in the morning he found that the uproar which had lulled him to sleep was the noise of a garage in the rear of the hotel. The sea was over a mile away." —Detroit Free Press.

Runciman and Henley.
It is related that shortly after Runciman, the well known writer on seafarers and smugglers and poachers, had bitterly fallen out with W. E. Henley he lay dying in London. To Henley in Edinburgh, James and J. L. came an indirect message that Runciman believed that if Henley would come and look on him he would get well. It was a dying man's whimsy, but Henley took the train from Edinburgh and arrived in London to find his friend dead.

Under the Spell.
Dashaway—A few short hours ago I was sitting with a girl, telling her she was the only one in all the world I ever loved, and so forth.
Cleverton—And she believed you, didn't she?
"How could she help it? Why, I believed it myself."—Life.

Without Trimmings.
Payne, an examiner at Cambridge University, whose questions were always of a peculiarly exasperating nature, once asked a student at a special examination to "give a definition of happiness."

"An exemption from Payne," was the reply.

Setting Her Right.
Mistress—So you want to leave, Mary? With what motive are you leaving? Cook—it ain't a motive, mum; it's a policeman.—Boston Courier.

Fame.
"Why are statues erected to famous men, father?" said a child.
"So that they may become known, dear," was the answer.—Exchange.

Who by aspersions throw a stone at the head of others hit their own.—Retbert.

Woodward's Store Room

So popular has our Furniture business become and so cramped for quarters in our main store room that we were obliged to expand, and we secured the commodious room at 521 McKean Ave., just one block further down McKean from our main store room.

Our aim in running the two stores is to give every customer the benefit of a large selection.

Now, we ask you to delay buying furniture until you see our displays.

A Rising Tide

Despite the attempts in certain quarters to knock on the candidacy of John K. Tener for Governor no candidate for this office so soon after his nomination has aroused such a degree of enthusiasm. From every quarter comes expressions of good will and assurances of support, not only from the four corners of the State, but in all parts of the United States. Should Mr. Tener see fit to accept all the offers of assistance that have been tendered by his Congressional colleagues friends he would have an army of spellbinders such as never before entered upon a campaign in the State.

A rising tide of sentiment for Mr. Tener is reported from all sections of the State. Pennsylvania is solidly Republican, and the most that the detractors can argue against Mr. Tener is that he has been regular. To those who believe in the principles of Republicanism this will be a boost instead of a knock, and the rehabilitated party in the State has accomplished the way of reform that is possible for any party to accomplish.

To Parents

Before your young hopeful blows in his Fourth of July allowance for explosives, take a look over his list and see what he proposes to purchase, and absolutely prohibit the use of blank cartridges and giant crackers, or any cracker powerful enough to blow off a finger, knockout an eye, or eliminate his nose. These adjuncts are valuable to your boy, and he will need them in after life. It is also well to remember that your neighbor's boy has equal use of his bodily appendages.

Another thing to do on the Fourth is to keep an eye on your young hopeful and know what his movements are and where he disports himself. Not only issue your mandates as to his conduct, but make it a point to see that they are obeyed. You may catch him throwing explosives at passing vehicles, autos or into the crowds. Also remember that not only is your own home inflammable, but that of your neighbor's is equally exposed, and that the volunteer firemen are apt to have on their good clothes and feel averse to spoiling the day as well as their attire on account of the lawlessness of your young hopeful. If you are not interested from a humane standpoint, consider the financial end. Doctors and undertakers have increased their rates, and when you come to buy a new household outfit after your home is burned, you will find that the high cost of living is not confined to food products alone.

Independence day is a glorious anniversary, but it is also a day of powder-poisoning and lockjaw, hostile and ambulances, mutilation, fire and death. Parental vigilance on this day will do much to supplement the restrictions of the law, and every parent should be on the job. Last Fourth 215 boys and girls were killed, and 5,307 were blinded, maimed and injured. A little watchfulness at the proper time will materially reduce this needless slaughter.

The Family Tree

With the advent of the summer months comes the family reunion. This hallowed institution, which first had its origin in wedding and birthday anniversaries, has come to be a regular feature in many of the leading families in every community, until now the "family tree" has taken root and is flourishing where formerly the fields were fallow and "the short and simple annals" of the common people were neglected. Now a family history is becoming a matter of pride and a stimulus to worthy endeavor an achievement.

After all, "blood is thicker than water" and nothing is more sacred than the preservation of the family tie. Aside from sentimental reasons a family history is of inestimable value to society, and its extension throughout the various ramifications should be both a family and a social duty. The family organization is the first unite of government, and inspires and invokes the first obligation of man in the ethical duties he is called on to perform. Not only is it the basis of all civilization, but carefully reserved and carried out from generation, its records reveal the only true history of a people.

Traced back, the family tree of the so-called nobility of Europe finds its origin in the achievements of the children of the soil. Family pride and organization have preserved a cohesion that has exercised a profound influence upon the world's progress. That some of these influences have been perverted does not detract from the value of the system. In this as in everything else, it is character that endures, and the pride of family organization is a powerful factor in preserving its standard through the succeeding generations.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

We know of two fellows out at Reno, Nevada, who are not anticipating a safe and sane celebration of the Fourth of July.

President Taft has gone on his vacation—News Item. Does that mean besides his general vacation?

Talk about heat in a large city. If it's any warmer in New York than it is in Charleroi, that city must be what some people have profanely called it.

People say the newspapers never do print things right, but when they attempt the preparation of articles they discover that the job is not so easy and with them it's an impossibility to "put things just right."

John Mitchell anticipates a good time when he gets to Charleroi, but it is not surprising that he should.

The boy who jumped from the Brooklyn bridge for $250 and a new suit of clothes, wanted that money more than John D. Rockefeller wants the earth.

Among the twenty-five decisive battles of the world might be mentioned that one where John K. Tener beat Ernest F. Acheson for Congress in the 24th Congressional District of Pennsylvania.

The New Castle Herald is authority that Mr. Acheson like the noted Barkis is willin' to run for Governor. In fact he may be considered as a eligibility to "run" for anything.

Preparations for the Fourth of July only remind a person that they must hunt up last year's flags or buy new ones.

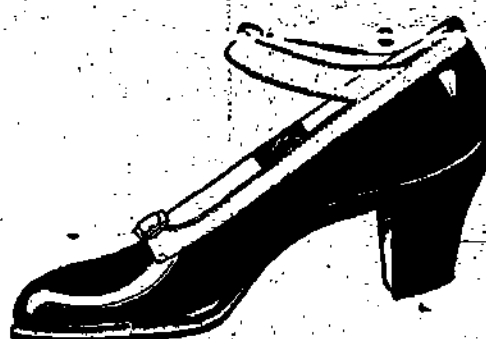

There's one kind of dress that never goes out of fashion, of which both the ladies of the land and the men are proud—it's the flag.

It's so pleasing to receive news two days after a wedding when you spent three solid hours on the date of the ceremony chasing it up.

The Traveler's Joy.

The cream of tartar tree, which is also called the "sour gourd," grows in northern Australia and has a trunk which measures from seventy to eighty-five feet in circumference, but which is only twenty or thirty feet high. The wood is soft and juicy and when steeped in water provides the thirsty traveler with a refreshing and cooling drink. The fruit is about six inches long, shaped like a lemon and contains a gently acid pulp, which tastes like cream of tartar. Wherever it is to be found a small encampment of weary wayfarers unfurl their tents. When sighted in the bush the famous tree is always greeted with a song written by the early bushrangers called "Sing Hey For the Traveler's Joy."—New York Telegram.

Whatever disgrace we have merited, it is almost always in our power to re-establish our reputation.—La Roche

Rough on His Lordship.

A carpenter in an English town having neglected to make a gibbet that had been ordered by the hangman on the ground that he had not been paid for the last one he had erected gave so much offense that the next time the judge came to the circuit he was sent for.

"Fellow," said the judge in a stern tone, "how came you to neglect making the gibbet that was ordered on my account?"

"I humbly beg your pardon," replied the carpenter. "Had I known you for your lordship it would have been done immediately."

Handicapped.

"You ought to save money for your family."

"Yes, but"—
"But what?"
"My family won't let me."—Cleveland Leader.

Only Wanted His Consent.
He was well dressed and breezy, and when he entered the private office of the great tea merchant he looked capable of doing anything from selling books to writing up insurance.
"I have come, sir," he announced, "to ask your consent."
"Consent for what?" demanded the old man without looking up.
"Well, er you see, your daughter."
"Oh, I understand now. So you like my daughter, eh?"
"I think she is the finest young woman I have met in many moons. As I was saying, if you'll give your consent she will have the handsomest."
"Come, come! Don't get vain and say she'll have the finest husband if she accepts you."
"I'm married, sir. I'm trying to tell you that if you give your consent she'll have the handsomest and richest in town. She's dead stuck on it, and if you'll consent and put up $1,000 cash we will!"
But the great tea merchant had collapsed.—Chicago News.

A Selfish Proposition.
A gentleman, resident at Harrow made frequent complaints to the masters of the great school there of his garden being stripped of its fruit, even before it became ripe, and on one occasion.
Tired of applying to the masters for redress, he at length appealed to the boys, and, sending for one to his house, he said: "Now, my good fellow, I'll make this agreement with you and your companions. Let the fruit remain on the trees till it becomes ripe, and I promise to give you half."
The boy coolly replied, "I can say nothing to the proposition, sir, myself, but will make it known to the rest of the boys and inform you of their decision tomorrow."
Next day came and brought with it this reply: "The gentlemen of Harrow cannot agree to receive so unequal a share, since Mr. — is an individual and we are many."—London Sketch.

Realism.
"When I was in London," said Miss Warner to the little group of friends round the dinner table who were listening to her account of some amusing experiences she had abroad last summer, "I tried to be as British as I could, but I was constantly getting mixed in my English phrases."
"You know one of the underground railroads in London is always spoken of as the 'tuppenny tube,' so one day when I wished to be transported in a hurry from one side of the city to the other I astonished a big, pleasant faced bobby by asking where was the nearest station of the 'tuppenny tube.'"
Every one at the table laughed except the young Scotch guest. He leaned across the board and said, very seriously, "Ye know ye can get a bawth in Lunnon for tuppence."

Our Elastic Globe.
Nothing seems more rigid than the crust of the earth, but scientific men tell us that it bends and buckles appreciably under the pull of the heavenly bodies. Careful observation has also shown that the shores on opposite sides of a tidal basin approach each other at high tide. The weight of water in the Irish sea, for instance, is much greater at that time than the bed sinks a trifle and consequently pulls the Irish and English coasts nearer together. The buildings of Liverpool and Dublin may be fancied as bowing to each other across the channel, the deflection from perpendicular being about one inch for every sixteen miles. It has been shown, too, that ordinary valleys widen under the beat of the sun and contract again at night. We live not on a rigid but an elastic globe.

In a Maori Wooing House.
Among the Maoris sometimes in the whale matoro (the wooing house), a building in which the young of both sexes assembled for play, songs, dances, etc., there would be at stated times a meeting. When the fires burned low a girl would stand up in the dark and say: "I love So-and-so. I want him for my husband." If he coughed (sign of assent) or said "Yes" to her mate, he only stood behind her, covered her head with her robe and was ashamed. This was not often, as she generally had managed to ascertain either by her own inquiry or by sending a girl friend if the proposal was acceptable. On the other hand, sometimes a mother would attend and say, "I want So-and-so for my son." If not assented to there was generally mocking, and she was told to let the young people have their house (the wooing house) to themselves.

Pepys and the Comet.
On Dec. 31, 1664, Pepys, the diarist, records, "My Lord Sandwich this day writes me word that he hath seen at Portsmouth the comet and says it is the most extraordinary thing he ever saw." Again, three days later, he writes, "Having sat up all night till past 2 o'clock this morning, our porter, being appointed, comes and tells us that the bellman tells him that the star is seen upon Tower hill, so I and my boy to Tower hill, it being a most fine bright moonshine night and a great frost, but no comet to be seen." Later the same day, however, Pepys did see the comet, "which now, whether worn away or no, I know not, appears not with a tail, but only is larger and duller than any other star."—Westminster Gazette.

A Glorious Day of Pleasure from Early Morn till Late at Night!
EVERYBODY CORDIALLY INVITED!

The Generous Arab.
One day when in our wanderings, happened to camp near some rolling country the sheik and I rode over arch of gazelles," says a traveler. "We found a large herd, being mounted on good horses, we tried to ride them down, throwing down the reins and the reins galloping on again. We killed six in about an hour and rode to camp with enough meat for a feast. It is the custom that who kills game should provide a feast for his friends. On the occasion of a feast I noticed that there was a crowd of hangers-on waiting for a scrap of food, half dead-looking boys and ragged men. I was orphan whose parents had been killed or men whose herds had been killed by other Arabs, and result they were desperate, for the if the Bedouin is "survival of the fittest" in its strictest sense. But the supplied food liberally, and I ed that he always cooked after and fed the hungry."

ny years ago the American war Delaware came near foundering the coast of South Carolina while ing a heavy squall during a morn- atch. The "unauthorized letting the fore sheet" alone saved the from being wrecked on the shore- ard. The first lieutenant, after Commodore Thomas W. Wyman, difficult climbing succeeded in ing the quarterdeck, where- hling the trumpet from the officer arge, his first order, given in a heard distinctly fore and aft. "Keep clear of the paint work," command to hundreds of human s packed in the lee scuppers like ies in a box instantly restored to order and prevented a panic, naturally feeling that if at such a with a line of battle ship on her ends, clean paint work was of ount importance their condition not be a serious one."

The Baby Stare.
e you ever sat opposite in bus in a baby, say, from one to ears old? If you have you have compelled to notice it. And ur- on are a misanthropical person s you have caught yourself feel- comfortable under its wide eyed ay of you. When Dreams Came True.
English magazine records two stories. In one a lady, having a important key, while walking ood near her house in Ireland, ed that she saw it lying at the t a certain tree. Next day she it there. She supposed her eye ave seen it after it dropped. her conscious mind had not in- noted it. the same was the theory of a er who went out late at night his letters and upon undressing a check for a large amount re- during the day. Saving the Oil.
"In Cairo," said a journalist, "I heard a queer yarn about the reli- bin. The fellahin are the native ru- rahists. They are very poor. Well, When the British built the Egyptian state railway the officials were as- tounded at the enormous quantities of train oil that disappeared. They knew that all this oil couldn't be used for lubricating purposes, so they made an investigation and found that it had become the staple food of the poor fellahin. The railroad detectives re- ported that the fellahin all over Egypt were using the Egyptian state railway's train oil as their chief sup- port. They buttered their bread with train oil. They fried their fish in train oil. They made a kind of sweet pudding with train oil as a base. They drank train oil beaten as a flesh producer or builder up. So the railway officials mixed castor oil with the stuff, and the fellahin after a year's torturing and vain effort to acclimatize their sys- tems to the mixture decided to give train oil up."

The Giant Bible.
There is in the Royal library at Stockholm among other curiosities a manuscript work known as the giant Bible on account of its extraordinary dimensions. It measures 90 centime- ters in length and is 50 centimeters in breadth—that is, about 35 by 10 inches. It requires three men to lift it. There are 300 pages, but seven have been lost. The parchment of which the book is composed required the skins of 100 asses. There are two columns on each page, and the book contains the Old and New Testaments, with extracts from Josephus. The initial letters are illuminated. The binding is of oak, four and one-half centimeters in thickness. The book narrowly escaped destruction in the fire in the royal palace of Stockholm in 1697. It was saved, but somewhat damaged, by being thrown out of a window.—London Globe.

The English Manor House Bathroom.
A writer in the American Magazine gives the following directions by which a visitor may always find the house- hold bathroom in an old English man- or house:

"The household bathroom may be reached by descending the narrow stone steps from the second floor back of the north battlement. Follow the fall in a southeasterly direction until you come to the armor gallery, then turn sharply to the left and follow the corridor to the top. Open the door at the end of this long hall and take a half light of stone steps (Oliver Crom- well once kissed a serving maid in this dark passage on the right and pass into the open hall at the end. You will easily discover the bathroom, because it is the fourth door from the mullion window; a beautiful piece of glass of Charles II's time."

Didn't Like Course Dinners.
A colored woman, native of the south, had been working for a flat dwelling family of moderate means in the city. She had been offered to accept a place bringing higher wages with a wealthy family who live in a large house on Euclid heights and have their dinner served in courses every night just as if there was com- pany. This colored woman had been brought up to put everything on the table at once, with the exception pos- sibly of the dessert, and did not face kindly to the course system. A few days ago her former mistress met her

on the street and inquired how she liked her new place.

"Oh, not very well," she replied. "I don't like this high way of servin' things in courses. The's too much shiftin' of the dishes for the fewness of the vittles."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Scotsman's English.
A true specimen of the bigblad man's difficulties with the English lan- guage:

Farmer (who had instructed his Gaelic shepherd to look for a number of sheep that had wandered from the fold)—Well, Donald, have you found them?

"Aye, mister."

"Where did you get them?"

"Well, got two by myself, one to- gether and three among one of Mc- Phearson's."—London News.

Own Up.

A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying, in other words, that he is wiser today than he was yesterday. —Pope.

A Guess at It.
Teacher of class in grammar—What do you understand by "parts of speech?" Tommy—It's—it's what a man stutters.—Chicago Tribune.

A Sort of Place.

First Artist—Reduced to a draught for a pillow, old chap? Second Artist—Idiot! Can't you see it's filled with straw?—Bon Vivant.

The Sharks.

"Did you see sharks when you cross- ed the ocean, Mr. Spiffkins?" asked Miss Purling.

"Yes," replied Spiffkins sadly. "I played cards with a couple."

CHRISTIANS WIN

PROTESTED GAME OF PRESBYTERIANS

The Christians through doing things when things counted, and by the timely aid of bases on balls, took the game from the First Presbyterians last night by the score of 6 to 4. The game was played under protest on account of Waters, claimed to be from Donora. The First Presbyterians got their entire four scores in the first inning, on three hits and two errors. The Christians got their first touch for a run in the fourth inning, on a two base hit, and an error. In the fifth they coupled with two runs, on two bases on balls and a two base hit. In the sixth three scores were the result, on a homer, two bases on balls and a two base swipe. The score:

DISTRIBUTED

Health Commissioner Dixon has completed all arrangements for the free distribution of tetanus anti-toxin for use in cases of poor children in Pennsylvania injured by explosives on the Fourth of July.

The anti-toxin will be supplied at 66 points in the State. These points have been so selected that there will be a station within 24 hours reach of any place in Pennsylvania. It is necessary that the anti-toxin be administered within forty eight hours after the wound has been inflicted. Any physician can secure the State's tetanus anti-toxin free upon application to one of the distributing stations and upon certifying that it is for the treatment of a person too poor to pay.

Dr. Dixon urges the necessity of prompt use of the anti-toxin in case of explosive wounds in order to ward off lockjaw. "Do not consider any such wound trivial," he says. "Send for a physician at once. If he cannot be secured promptly wash out the wound thoroughly in the meantime and apply a hot antiseptic."

The distributing points most available to Charleroi are: Valentine Bros., Washington; R. E. Springer, Uniontown; Walker's Pharmacy, McKeesport; A. F. Martin, Greensburg.

WOMAN- ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.--"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon." Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-beat existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

An Expert Opinion of Skin Diseases.

A prominent, national expert on skin diseases whose name you are familiar with says that in all his scientific experience he has never found so hard a disease to conquer as Eczema. Yet he does not hesitate to recommend ZEMO as a most successful remedy for the treatment of Eczema, itching skin diseases, dandruff, pimples, blackheads and all other diseases of the skin and scalp. He says that not only does its curative qualities make it popular but also the fact that it is a clean, liquid remedy for external use, a great improvement over the old style greasy salves and lotions which are not only unpleasant to use but do not destroy the germ life that causes the disease. ZEMO draws the germs to the surface and destroys them leaving the skin clear and healthy. Can be used freely on infants. Mr. Piper will gladly supply those who call with a free sample bottle of ZEMO and a booklet which explains in simple language all about skin diseases and how to cure yourself at home with ZEMO.
